

Getting Creative at East Tilbury!

In art this half term, year 6 have been looking at paintings by different artists, reflecting on the subject and content of the painting and describing what this makes us think about. This week, they looked at 'Gassed' by John Singer Sargent, painted in 1919, after Sargent visited the front line in 1918, having been commissioned by the Government to produce a piece of war art. Having looked at and thought about the painting, we then recreated the painting.

In Art, year 2 have been looking at artists who were inspired by and created their own maps. They began thinking about their route to school and other familiar journeys. They then thought about what features they would pass such as parks, places of worship and train stations. After they were clear about their journey,

In year 4, art has been especially creative this week, where pupils used crayons and paint to create a variety of designs, focusing on colour composition and precision.

As a special request, the Year 4 Team are asking the parents if they would donate any cardboard over the next 2 weeks in preparation for an activity on our Anglo-Saxon themed Enrichment Day. Delivery boxes of any size would be greatly appreciated
